Tells of Conditions in Pennsylvania Collieries.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 19.—The examination of Colonel R. A. Philips of Scranton, general superintendent of the mining department of the Delgware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, took up the greater part of the day's session of the Coal Strike Commission. Colonel Philips told of the condition in and about the colleries owned by the Lackawanna Company. Like several other superintendents who testified, he believed the men had a right to organize if they wanted to, but no person who is not employed by the company had a right to come in and tell the men of the company what they should do.

Much of the witnesses's testimony was along the same line as that given by the other superintendents.

Schawacker said that the split in the Republican City Central Committee, by which sixteen of the old members were ousted, was brought about by Chairman Akins and his friends, on the State Committee, who, desiring to control the Republican political situation in Missouri and the Federal patronage, had advised Washington that they could secure the domination of the State and City committees to that end. He said that in the November primaries the "outsiders," who had been kicked out of the City Committee, were swindled by the Atkins representatives.

He said there was no contest made because it was feared that the exposure of Republican frauds and crookedness at the publican frauds and crookedness at the primary, as in the Boettger contest, would injure the party. He related the history of the two Republican conventions at which Wagoner. Reynolds and Loffingen had been nominated and indorsed. He said his quarrel with Joseph Schuler, who succeeded him as Central Committeeman, was caused by Schuler's refusal to support Mayor Ziegeinhein's veto of the Central Traction and North and South bills.

Schawacker declared that the inactivity and apathy of the Republican workers, due to the fight in the Central Committee, was responsible for the defeat of Wagoner and Reynolds.

Louis Becker, better known as "Tub" Becker, one of the committeemen ousted by the State Committee, gave similar testimony. He said the workers were disgrunted and refused to work for the ticket. In cross-examination he declared that the Nesbit law was not, in his opinion responsible for the defeat of the Republican candidates, and that under the operations of that law Republicans enjoyed the same privileges in the registration and election as the Democrats.

Julius Wurzburger, former lieutenant of Mayor Ziegenheln, testified along the same lines. He said that in his opinion the best man in the Republican party could not have defeated Butler under the conditions prevailing in Republican ranks last election.

R. C. Kerens, Charles Nagel, Theodore Kalbfell, Charles Wenneker, John B. Owen, Norman Florshelm, Henry Westermann, Augustus Filley, Hiram Lloyd and Morton Jourdan, who had been regularly subpensed, failed to respond when their names were called, and their absence was noted in the record.
